

AGGIES On A Quest For Success

... from Mr. Moore's Desk

Greetings Parents & Scholars:

It is my hope that this newsletter finds each of you doing well. This week is a short week, as you know, because of one of the biggest holidays of the year. Yes, the season of thanks and love is upon us. Thanksgiving is this Thursday, but prior to that our school would like to honor our grandparents with our annual Grandparents Day Celebration. Please invite all grandparents to come out and have lunch with their grands and it is my prayer that all of you have a wonderfully blessed Thanksgiving field with lots of eats and love from family & friends.

Please remember that I am inviting you to help me to help your child become a better reader. The movement is called 'The Move Our Kids Movement. The way we do this together is by enforcing that your child complete their nightly reading, get on i-Ready and read to you for fluency.

As always, feel free to contact me with any questions or concerns that you may have and thank you for entrusting me with your scholar's academic growth in reading. Have a blessed holiday!

Mr. Moore

(Brothers Accountable Driven & Determined)

This mentoring program that I founded with two gentlemen a little over eleven years ago is starting its Tiger program back up finally. Information has been sent home and meetings will begin this week

Any fathers that would like to assist, it is much appreciated. Also if you know anyone in various career fields that wouldn't mind coming out and talking to our boys, please let me know.
