... from Mr. Moore's Desk

Greetings Parents & Scholars:

As always, I pray that your weekend was great! This weekend was a weekend all about life for me, in that we lost a family member. My stepfather passed away on Friday, so please keep my family uplifted in prayer. Last week was a week filled with some promising observations. The scholars overall performed well on their end of the book assessment on "The Road To Freedom." I was really pleased.

This week we will be focusing on multiple accounts of the same event. It should be a week of rigorous learning. i-Ready is still a major focal point that you could help with when they are at home. Please ensure that they are getting on i-Ready for a minimum of seven minutes daily. In addition to i-Ready, it is crunch time and it is imperative that our scholars read nightly in a quiet place for 45 minutes. After that reading session ask them a few basic questions and have them complete the documentation of their reading.

Due to the loss of my stepfather, I will more than likely be out of the class for most of the week. Ms. Williams was scheduled to teach and the plans will move forward. Please help Ms. Williams by reminding our scholars of their purpose for coming to school.

Have a blessed week!!!

Mr. Moore

Weekly Learning Standard

This week we will be changing standards and working primarily on the following standard:

LAFS5.RI.2.6

Analyze Multiple Accounts of the same events

Aggieland Notes

Communication Reminders:

Parents, please remember to send in headphones with your scholars

Incentive Reward Request

3rd Nine Weeks Request:

I am asking that each child bring in a bag or two of candy, chips, individual cookies and/or fruit snacks for our classroom reward containers which are given out as incentive for when the scholar goes above and beyond.

February 25, 2019

Aggie Success

Upcoming Events

Spring Break

March 11 thru 15th

Reading Stamina Information

Having stamina for something means being able to stick with something for periods of time. This stamina, or endurance, builds strength. Stamina can apply to lots of different areas, such as exercise or painting. It can also apply to reading. Teachers often think about a student's reading stamina. Reading stamina is a child's ability to focus and read independently for long periods of time without being distracted or without distracting others. Reading stamina is something that parents can help students develop. As your child moves further into the year, developing reading stamina will help your child navigate the longer texts and assignments. Please enforce that your child reads daily for a minimum of 30 -45 minutes, Monday thru Sunday.

Williams Word

Parents,

Hi there! I hope you all had a great weekend. We had a wonderful week last week in the classroom!

This week we will be starting the book "The Great Migration" in class. I am so excited to read through this book with the scholars. We will be using it as a great resource to deepen their understanding of main idea, descriptive details, and even compare and contrast with a book we just finished in class.

I am continuously impressed by their handwork and determination in class. They have been excelling in both their independent and group work times. Way to go scholars!

Please continue to support us at home by ensuring that your child is spending time on I-Ready and independently reading.

It is going to be a great week in 5th grade at Tiger Academy!!

Have a wonderful week!

Ms. Williams
