

AGGIES On A Quest For Success

March 26, 2018

... from Mr. Moore's Desk

Greetings Parents & Scholars:

Welcome back! Welcome back! WELCOME BACK!!!!

It is my hope that each of you, my scholars/my parents, enjoyed a much needed rest from the high intensity of our everyday learning environment! In three weeks my little brothers/sisters will put what they have learned from me this year, as well as over the years to Florida's Standard Assessment. It is with great confidence that I inform you that they are ready! My babies, our babies are ready!!!

With that being said, during these three weeks I am merely asking each parent to enforce bed times until after all testing. I am also asking that you ask your babies if they have any practice homework? I am calling it practice homework as it will be material specific to their needs as a class or individually. This will be in addition to the i-Ready required work.

The rigor in the classroom as well as homework will be intensified, but it is nothing they can't handle. This week our emphasis will be on main idea and author's perspective.

If you have any questions please contact me.
Thank You!

Mr. Moore

What's Happening

BADD (Brothers Accountable Driven & Determined) will meet this tomorrow from 3:45 until 4:15. I will be sending out information regarding our community service events and more.

i-Ready News Report

I am a little discouraged by the fact that our scholars are not getting on i-ready Reading any longer.

Please continue to push their work on this 7 minutes daily.

FSA Information

Parents these next three weeks are review weeks in which the rigorous activity will be increased. It is imperative that you push our babies at home, as well as ensure that they are going to bed on time with minimal distraction.

I am asking each of you to review their prefixes and suffixes with them daily as well as have them read nightly.
