... from Mr. Moore's Desk

Greetings Parents & Scholars:

It is hard to believe that we are four weeks into the school year and I am happy to report that we are learning and having fun learning. Overall this group is engaged and enthused about learning. The lessons are about to become more rigorous and homework will be given on Mondays and Wednesdays with a break from this schedule occasionally depending on the lesson requirements.

Teaching Alert: Our intern, Ms. Bradley will be taking over the teaching duties this week. I of course will be in the room assisting and co-teaching so feel free to contact me still with any questions or concerns.

Again, thank you for entrusting me to help make a difference in the lives your children!

Mr. Moore

Weekly Learning Standard

This past week we worked primarily on the following standard:

LAFS.5.RL.1.1 Quote accurately from a text when explaining what the text says explicitly and when drawing inferences from the text

This week we will continue with this standard and add in the following: LAFS.5.RL.1.2 Determine a theme of a story or poem from the details in the text, including how characters in a story or drama respond to challenges

Aggieland Notes

Communication:

I will send home a weekly newsletter to update you on various expectations. Scholars will be expected to keep up with their assignments and due dates in their Tiger issued agenda. If anything pertinent arises, I will call, email or text you individually.

NEED Composition Books:

There are still many scholars that do not have the three composition books asked for. I am asking everyone to ensure that your child has all three and anyone that can to donate some to the classroom just in case.

Bradley's Corner

Hello parents and scholars! Thank you for such an awesome fun-filled week of learning last week. As Mr. Moore mentioned I will be taking over the class beginning this week. I'm glad to see that the Tiger Classroom Buck System is going well. For parents and faculty that haven't been informed, this system is the new class behavior management system that I implemented in the middle of the past week. Students are rewarded with one Tiger dollar each time they are observed modeling leadership qualities such as: CHAMPS, respectful behavior, responsibility, etc. At the end of every other week, students with Tiger dollars will have the opportunity to purchase fun items/prizes from the class store. I'm looking forward to following through with this plan for the rest of my time at Tiger. Lets all have a great week!

Ms. Bradley

Reading Stamina Information

Having stamina for something means being able to stick with something for periods of time. This stamina, or endurance, builds strength. Stamina can apply to lots of different areas, such as exercise or painting. It can also apply to reading. Teachers often think about a student's reading stamina. Reading stamina is a child's ability to focus and read independently for long periods of time without being distracted or without distracting others. Reading stamina is something that parents can help students develop. As your child moves further into the year, developing reading stamina will help your child navigate the longer texts and assignments. Please enforce that your child reads daily for a minimum of 30 -45 minutes, Monday thru Sunday.
