Greetings Parents & Scholars:

Happy New Year Everyone! Welcome back to school after a much needed break. As we reflect on the adversity faced in 2021, we are all stronger and better equipped to tackle 2022. Today is not only our first day back, but it marks the beginning of the 3rd nine weeks and the sense of urgency within the classroom intensifies!

In that, you may have noticed an increase in the work that scholars have been bringing home prior to winter break. Not only will there be a little more work, the level of rigor will be more intense. By no means is the workload designed to punish our scholars, but it is designed to increase engagement and raise the bar with respect to stamina and endurance thus leading to enhanced comprehension.

In the upcoming weeks, we will be taking our mid-year i-Ready assessments. We are looking forward to our scholars performing well in both math and reading as far as growth. We are extremely proud of them because we know the growth will be substantial. This is a good sign, but we must not let up. We thank you for assisting us in pushing our scholars. Thank you for entrusting their academic growth to us.

Mrs. Greene & Mr. Moore

AGGIE NEWS (Reading & Writing)

It's 2022 Little Brothers/Sisters & Families!!!! It is sincerely my prayer that you all ended 2021 with a bang; full of family, love and memories.

Please remember that we are beginning a new nine weeks and that it will be more rigorous than before. Time is of the essence and therefore a sense of urgency will be ramped up. Parents and scholars the work will be more prescribed toward need and some scholars will have more prescribed home learning. I am asking that my parents, please support our babies by helping me to enforce the necessary measures needed for them to grow.

We will be tackling text structures and features, as well as reviewing main idea to start off with. Writing will increase and involve more peer editing. It is my hope that the excuses are limited because if someone does not do their work it will mess up their ability to complete the class assignment and impact other scholar's ability to do theirs.

Please continue to do you nightly reading and complete all of you work.
Love You.

Mr. Moore

EAGLE NEWS (Math & Science)

Happy New Year! I hope you had the opportunity to relax as you embrace the year of endless possibilities for your child as he or she completes their final year of elementary school. For this last semester, please work with your child on being prepared for every class with pencil and homework materials ready and a mind focused on learning inside of the classroom.

The standards that we will be covering this week are Interpreting Fractions as Division for Math and Our Solar System for Science. The online platforms such as Zearn and Ed Base Camp have on-grade level activities for your child to continue their learning at home. Please encourage him or her to login and complete activities periodically throughout the week.

In preparation for Black History Month in February, we will began researching famous inventors and scientists this month for our class project. More details concerning the project will be sent home later this month.

Thank you for your continued support and partnership in your child's education!

Sincerely,

Mrs. Green

Streak Family News

The streaks are back up and running. The 3rd nine weeks will prove to be the most consistent with points totaled daily. Parents we are asking that you submit above and beyond things your scholar does, but if you see a 5th grader that is not yours doing something on school grounds or out and about please let us know. We really want to encourage doing the right thing both here and elsewhere.

The overall winners will receive something major. We are coordinating with administration to make that happen as the weekly winners have been out of my personal pocket. Administration has committed to making it happen.
