What's Tea with Ms. Lee:

- This week we will celebrate black history month. Please review the flyer in class dojo for details.
- Our class could use the following items: candy, chips, pretzels, water bottles, tissue, napkins, and hand sanitizer.
- The math concepts are beginning to be more challenging. PLEASE spend time to work with your scholar for at least 10 min on their page. It should only about 10-20 min to complete one page please reach out if you have any questions about your scholars homework.
- Wednesday folders (from the school) will be sent home each Wednesday and are expected to be returned each Thursday. If you see an orange folder at home please return it back to school.

For math this week please go over the work that was sent home last week and review the new paper I have placed in their folders. !!!

Spelling Words of the Week:

Car, part, hard, form, short, more <3 words:
pretty and nothing
*Our scholars will be tested on these words this Friday.

What are we learning?

Phonics: (M-T) This week we are learning about r-controlled vowels (ar) W-Th) We are also learning another r-controlled vowel (or)

Reading: This week we are continuing to learn about technology with a focus on the central idea, relevant details, and understanding the text better using text features.

Math: We have our UNIT 11 test this Thursday and we will begin unit 12 on Friday. Unit 12 is all about measurement (please continue to practice math facts with your scholar!!)

Science: This week we are diving into learning more about living things and how some living things look like their parents. If you have any photos of you and your scholar this would be the best time to send them in as we will be able to observe how animals look like their parents. (thank you to those that have do so!)

SS: This week and each week in February we will continue to learn about two African Americans that have helped pave the way for our scholars. This week is Mae Jemison and aretha Franklin. If you feel strongly about an African American you'd like for us to learn about feel free to share some ideas with me and I'd love to collaborate with you or create an activity that will help our scholars have a memorable experience leaning about the that have helped pave the way for us!

Tiger of the week:

Ramir B.
